WELLPOINT SYSTEMS IMPROVES SOFTWARE EFFECTIVENESS THROUGH STRATEGIC AGREEMENT WITH GEMINI PERFORMANCE SOLUTIONS

CALGARY, Alberta, April 11, 2005 – WellPoint Systems Inc. ("WellPoint") (TSX-V:WPS) today announced that the company has entered into a strategic agreement with Gemini Performance Solutions Inc., a Calgary-based services company, to deliver eLearning solutions to both existing and future WellPoint clients. The eLearning applications will provide these customers with a flexible and cost-effective option to complement the traditional training that WellPoint offers through its Professional Services division.

Tom Mawhinney, Vice President of Sales and Marketing for WellPoint commented, "We are always striving to improve our client's performance and return on investment by increasing the effectiveness of our software. Gemini's eLearning technology is already a proven solution with one of our biggest clients, Husky Energy. Partnering with Gemini to develop eLearning not only adds value and differentiates us from our competitors but also allows us to lower our internal costs for client training and support.

Kim Adolphe, President and CEO of Gemini commented, "WellPoint is the clear leader in the Oil and Gas software sector, and this partnership demonstrates that they intend to stay. The benefits that eLearning will provide are too numerous to list, but WellPoint clients will now have access to cost-effective, highly interactive training complete with the tools to track success and fully capitalize on their WellPoint software investments."
