WELLPOINT ANNOUNCES INAUGURAL GLOBAL CONFERENCE

CALGARY, Alberta, July 9th, 2007 - WellPoint Systems Inc. ("WellPoint" or the "Company") (TSX - V:WPS), the premier supplier of innovative software solutions to the energy sector, is extremely pleased to announce the first annual WellPoint Global Conference (WGC), a customer, prospect and partner event designed to showcase WellPoint's product portfolio as well as to provide a forum for the Company's clients to share ideas and feedback with their colleagues and with members of the WellPoint management team. The inaugural event will be held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Calgary, Alberta on September 5th & 6th, 2007.

The WellPoint Global Conference is targeted to be a two day event that represents an opportunity for the Company's customers and partners from around the world to connect with each other, gain insight into the Company's corporate strategy and perhaps most importantly of all, to have an impact on the direction of the Company's products and services.

"WellPoint is extremely fortunate to have a very diverse and sophisticated set of clientele from around the world", says Tom Mawhinney, President of WellPoint Systems. "We needed to find a way to create an interactive event like the WGC where we could share our plans going forward and in turn, tap into the wealth of energy industry experience that our customers possess. We fully expect that the feedback we receive from this annual conference will be one of the most important sources of input into the development of our product roadmap going forward."

As of July 13th, specific details on the event agenda, timelines and registration process can be accessed through the Company's corporate website, www.wellpointsystems.com. For additional information on the event itself, please direct all inquiries to wgc@wellpointsystems.com.
