

WellPoint Systems Streamlines Crude Oil Marketing Business Process for Masefield Canada

CALGARY, Alberta – October 2, 2008 – WellPoint Systems Inc., (“WellPoint” or the “Company”) (TSX-V:WPS), a leading provider of software and related solutions to the energy industry, today announced Masefield Canada Inc. (“Masefield”), an international crude oil marketer, has successfully implemented the first phase of WellPoint’s Energy Broker product. Energy Broker is being used to manage Masefield’s crude oil marketing business and will allow Masefield to enhance their trading business.

WellPoint has broken new ground with the creation of a comprehensive, integrated oil and gas software solution powered by Microsoft Dynamics AX. WellPoint Energy Broker is a state of the art integrated oil and gas marketing software solution with a flexible contract and price builder, comprehensive logistics marketing and settlement solution. This configurable and scalable application is a multi-commodity, multi currency and multi-language marketing system. WellPoint Energy Broker will revolutionize how oil and gas trading organizations can do business.

Masefield has been a long time customer of WellPoint. “The new Energy Broker product offers our company the most current comprehensive technology that will help us succeed in an extremely competitive market” said Herb Hamilton, President of Masefield Canada. “We needed a business software system that allows us to create and store mission critical information within a common database structure. WellPoint’s Energy Broker allows our company to capture complex deal structures directly within the application. The customizable reports and configurable role-based screens provide our team with state of the art tools to perform their job functions.”

Masefield will implement the entire suite of Energy Broker functionality by the end of November. “From Energy Broker Price Builder to Settlement Documents, this product will manage the entire cycle of commodities marketing from the forecasting and nominations through to settlement. The alerts and workflow will be a huge time savings and will provide significant value and cost savings to our organization,” added Hamilton.

“As it is WellPoint’s mission to meet the unique needs of clients throughout the energy industry, we are excited to work with Masefield on the integration of their crude oil and condensate marketing,” said Richard Slack, COO of WellPoint. “We are pleased to bring the unique capabilities of product and services that WellPoint offers to Masefield and look forward to helping them succeed.”
