WELLPOINT SYSTEMS CHOSEN BY CALLON PETROLEUM

BOLO product helps company execute their business strategy

CALGARY, Alberta – Oct. 5, 2010 – WellPoint Systems Inc., (TSX-V:WPS), provider of software and solutions designed to transform complex data into actionable business insight for oil and gas industry executives, was recently chosen by Mississippi-based Callon Petroleum Company to be their back-office IT provider. The company will also be utilizing the exclusive “Intelligent Dashboard” for constant real-time business intelligence.

“Callon Petroleum chose BOLO by WellPoint Systems for our land, accounting and production management departments,” said Mitzi Conn, controller of Callon Petroleum. “We were impressed by what WellPoint Systems has to offer in the way of management reporting, particularly with the Intelligent Dashboard. Additionally, we felt totally comfortable with the implementation team and that they would work as our partner towards a successful project.”

“WellPoint Systems’ BOLO product line is designed for companies like Callon Petroleum. Callon’s leadership will have easy access to crucial data needed for decision making,” said Richard Slack, president and CEO of WellPoint Systems. “We look forward to working with Callon as they execute their business strategy.”
